

NAMELESS,

MAY 2026
ISSUE #2

FACELESS &

SELFLESS

PDF's

In all these Patience, You are more than a Conqueror.

Chris sat in a trotro with other leaders and starters to Central Market. To alight in front of Roman Hill road. Without delay he set his destination to pass all the way from Roman Hill to the Police station, to WAEC and KTI junction. To go all the way to the central mosque at Asawasi junction.

At Roman Hill junction, he reached one called Agnes Owusu, the eldest, and the firstborn of all his mothers house. She, being 80+ years old, walked very slowly. So he walked past her.

When he passed her by, something pricked his heart to wait for her and go together with her. By waiting for her, Chris walked very slowly as she was walking. He walked at the pace of old mothers and fathers. So even though he was first among his peers, yet he became the last, and the least of them.

Therefore, the elder mother became so glad that a young man like Chris could have all the patience and wait for her and walk together with her to the same destination. When both walked ahead for sometime behold she placed her two hands upon the two hands of Chris palm to palm and blessed him.

And began to share with him a hidden secret in all of Central market that had its headquarters named as Central Mosque. Saying, "there's a great power behind all of Central Market. The power of Tie and Die. Idol Priests cast this power of tie and die at the beginning of the market called Roman Hill, and at the end called Central Mosque, and at the center of Central Market called Center line."

a lot of patience

idol worship in market places

Inside:

conqueror

More than a Conqueror

When he lifted up his eyes into Central Mosque, and Roman Hill and Center line of the market and saw various kinds of tie and die going on currently in the market. Those engaging in the tie and die business, the dominant ones among them were of the Islamic faith, old traditions, false prophets, the false cross bearers, anti-Christ, and enchanters.

When the old woman left the scene, Chris stood at the same place she stood with her. Now with one daughter of God called Rosalind. Rosalind made haste to go into Central Market without first receiving the blessing of the elder mother called "More than a Conqueror".

But Chris held her hands to caution her saying, "wait for me", but she would not. And she went ahead of him into the market hastily and with speed. And became a prey to the company of tie and die folks in the market.

A lot of Patience

Therefore Chris concluded that by a lot of patience a child of God is made to receive the blessing of "37 Yet in all these things we are more than conquerors through Him who loved us." Rom. 8:37 And not being patient enough, being impatient, and stepping out into Central Market without the blessing of the mother of all patience let you become a prey to druglords and drug barons, (aduto foc), idol worshippers, false prophets, abolitionists, etc. Those that have power to end your life very quickly on earth.